What to Expect

The host will provide accommodation and meals. Rooms will be cleaned and bedcovers changed at least once a week. You will be given the house key and the host is there to offer help and advice as well as to take an interest in your physical and mental health.

Accommodation Zones

Homestays are located in London mainly in Zones 2, 3 and 4 of the transport system. Most hosts do not live in the town centre as much of central London is commercial and not residential (居住的). Zones 3 and 4 often offer larger accommodation in a less crowded area. It is very convenient to travel in London by Underground.

Meal Plans Available

18. (12.5 分) In the fall of 1985. I was a bright - eyed girl heading off to Howard University, aiming at a legal career and dreaming of sitting on a Supreme Court bench somewhere. Twenty - one years later I am still a bright - eyed dreamer and one with quite a different tale to tell.

My grandma, an amazing woman, graduated from college at the age of 65. She was the first in our family to reach that goal. But one year after I started college, she developed cancer. I made the choice to withdraw from college to care for her. It meant that school and my personal dream would have to wait.

Then I got married with another dream: building my family with a combination of adopt and biological children. In 1999, we adopted our first son. To lay eyes on him was fantastic - - - and very emotional. A year later came our second adopted boy. Then followed son No.3. In 2003, I gave birth to another boy.

You can imagine how fully occupied I became, raising four boys under the age of 81. Our home was a complete zoo - - - a joyous zoo. Not surprising, I never did make it back to college full - time. But I never gave up on the dream either. I had only one choice: to find a way. That meant taking as few as one class each semester.

The hardest part was feeling guilty about the time I spent away from the boys. They often wanted me to stay home with them. There certainly were times I wanted to quit, But I knew I should set an example for them to follow through the rest of their lives.

In 2007, I graduated from the University of North Carolina. It took me over 21 years to get my college degree!

I am not special, just single-minded. It always struck me that when you're looking at a big challenge from the outside it looks huge, but when you're in the midst of it, it just seems normal. Everything you want won't arrive in your life on one day. It's a process. Remember; little steps add up to big dreams.

19. (12.5 分) An idea that started in Seattle's public library has spread throughout America and beyond. The concept is simple: help to build a sense of community in a city by getting everyone to read the same book at the same time.

In addition to encouraging reading as a pursuit (追求) to be enjoyed by all, the program allows strangers to communicate by discussing the book on the bus, as well as promoting reading as an experience to be shared in families and schools. The idea came from Seattle librarian Nancy Pearl who launched (发起) the "If All of Seattle Read the Same Book" project in 1998. Her original program used author visits, study guides and book discussion groups to bring people together with a book, but the idea has since expanded to many other American cities, and even to Hong Kong.

In Chicago, the mayor (市长) appeared on television to announce the choice of To Kill a Mockingbird as the first book in the "One Book, One Chicago" program. As a result, reading clubs and neighbourhood groups sprang up around the city. Across the US, stories emerged of parents and children reading to each other at night and strangers chatting away on the bus about plot and character.

The only problem arose in New York, where local readers could not decide on one book to represent the huge and diverse population. This may show that the idea works best in medium - sized cities or large towns, where a greater sense of unity (一致) can be achieved. Or it may show that New Yorkers rather missed the point, putting all their energy

And passion into the choice of the book rather than discussion about a book itself.

Ultimately as Nancy points out, the level of success is not measured by how many people read a book, but by how many people are enriched by the process, or have enjoyed speaking to someone with whom they would not otherwise have shared a word.

46. What is the purpose of the project launched by Nancy? _____

A. To invite authors to guide readers.

B. To encourage people to read and share.

C. To involve people in community service.

- D. To promote the friendship between cities.

- A. They had little interest in reading.
- B. They were too busy to read a book.
- C. They came from many different backgrounds
- D. They lacked support from the local government
48. According to the passage, where would the project be more easily carried out? _____
- A. In large communities with little sense of unity
- B. In large cities where libraries are far from home
- C. In medium - sized cities with a diverse population
- D. In large towns where agreement can be quickly reached
49. The underlined words "shared a word" in Paragraph 5 probably mean _____
- A. exchanged ideas with each other
- B. discussed the meaning of a word
- C. gained life experience
- D. used the same language
50. According to Nancy, the degree of success of the project is judged by _____
- A. the careful selection of a proper book
- B. the growing popularity of the writers
- C. the number of people who benefit from reading.
- D. the number of books that each person reads.

20. (12.5 分) Blind imitation (模仿) is self - destruction. To those who do not recognize their unique worth. Imitation appears attractive: to those who know their strength. Imitation is unacceptable.

In the early stages of skill or character development, imitation is helpful. When I first learned to cook, I used recipes (菜谱) and turned out some tasty dishes. But soon I grew bored. Why follow someone else's way of cooking when I could create my own? Imitating role models is like using training wheels on a child's bicycle; they help you get going, but once you find your own balance, you fly faster and farther without relying on them.

In daily life, imitation can hurt us if we subconsciously (下意识地) hold poor role models. If, as a child, you observed people whose lives were bad, you may have accepted their fear and pain as normal and gone on to follow what they did. If you do not make strong choices for yourself, you will get the results of the weak choices of others.

In the field of entertainment, our culture glorifies celebrities. Those stars look great on screen. But when they step off screen, their personal lives may be disastrous. If you are going to follow someone, focus on their talent, not their bad character or unacceptable behaviors.

Blessed is the person willing to act on their sudden desire to create something unique. Think of the movies, books, teachers, and friends that have affected you most deeply. They touched you because their creations were motivated by inspiration, not desperation. The world is changed not by those who do what has been done before them, but by those who do what has been done inside them. Creative people have an endless resource of ideas. The problem a creator faces is not running out of material; it is what to do with the material knocking at the door of imagination.

Study your role models, accept the gifts they have given, and leave behind what does not serve. Then you can say, "I stand on the shoulders of my ancestors" tragedies and story, and know that they are cheering on.

51. Imitation proves useful when you_____.

- A. know you are unique
- B. lose the balance of life
- C. begin to learn something new
- D. get tired of routine practice

52. To avoid the bad result of imitation, we should_____.

- A. forget daily fear and pain
- B. choose the right example
- C. ask others for decisions
- D. stay away from stars

53. According to the author. The world moves on because of those who are_____.

- A. desperate to influence others with their knowledge
- B. ready to turn their original ideas into reality

- C. eager to discover what their ancestors did
 - D. willing to accept others'ideas
54. The trouble a creator faces is_____.
- A. the lack of strong motivation
 - B. the absence of practical ideas
 - C. how to search for more materials
 - D. how to use imagination creatively
55. What is the author's purpose in writing this passage? _____
- A. To highlight the importance of creatively.
 - B. To criticize the characters of role models.
 - C. To compare imitation with creation.
 - D. To explain the meaning of success.
